Walter's Ribbon
A Story of Renewal, Art, and Unexpected Beauty

Love music? Try writing lyrics, composing beats, or designing album covers.

Clothes with fashion? Create custom outfits, repair a fashion sketchbook, or upcycle old clothes into something new.

Fascinated by history? Write historical fiction, create a podcast about cool moments in history, or design a board game set in another time period.

Make Something - Big or Small! You don't need fancy tools or years of experience to start creating. Use what you have and start with something simple!

Love older games? Design your own board game or sketch out characters for a game you'd love to play.

Like science? Conduct a fun experiment and make a how-to video.

Spring Equinox

When is it? Typically, it occurs between March 20th and 21st in the Northern Hemisphere. This is when the Sun is exactly above the Earth's equator.

What happens? Around the equinox, the daylight hours and darkness hours are about the same. The Sun continues its path towards the Summer Solstice, so the daylight hours grow longer.

Why is it important? Traditionally, Spring Equinox marks the first day of Spring. In some cultures, the lengthening daylight was taken as a sign to begin planting the season's crops.

Where does the word equinox come from? The term "equinox" is derived from two Latin words: "aequal" meaning equal and "nox" meaning night. So, equinox means equal night.

SPRING COLOURING MEDITATION

I am Claire, an artist and art mindfulness facilitator, and I invite you to join me in this colouring meditation. You follow my guide as you colour, letting the rhythm of pencil to paper become a gentle meditation. The image to colour is on the back page of the Witches Noticeboard. I have created this one as a spell so as you colour set this intention: as I colour, I become.

Begin by breathing into the page, welcoming the balance of Ostara.

Start with the earth and grasses at the base of the image. As you colour, imagine old heaviness draining away. These roots and blades are your grounded intentions, steady, practical, ready to support what comes next. Whisper inwardly: I am supported as I grow.

Move to the eggs resting in the grass. Colour them slowly. These are your possibilities, You may write your goals in each one if it helps. I trust what is quietly forming

Now bring life to the hare. Let your hand follow its alert lines and strong limbs. The hare is instinct, momentum, and courage. As colour fills its body, reconnect with your own inner knowing, the part of you that senses when to leap and when to pause. I listen to my intuition.

Turn to the daffodil, bright and upright. This is your optimism made visible. As its petals take colour, allow joy and curiosity to return without forcing them. I welcome light back into my life.

Finally, soften the sky and background. These flowing shapes are your thoughts and beliefs. Let them be spacious, uncluttered, kind. I allow balance.

When the page is complete, pause. Like spring itself, you are emerging, not rushed, not late but perfectly timed.

When the colouring is complete, place your hand on the page and finish with:
I am rooted. I grow. I bloom.

The spell is sealed.

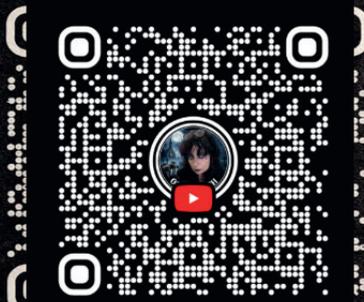

When your picture is complete, place it on your altar, or share it with me at Claire Valentine Art.

And if you'd like to try another, scan the QR code and join me in my Magic Circle.
