NEW RELEASE

By Quinn Green

PAGANS, WITCHES & EVERYTHING IN BETWEEN
Exploring Paganism & Witchcraft In The Past & Present
QUINN GREEN

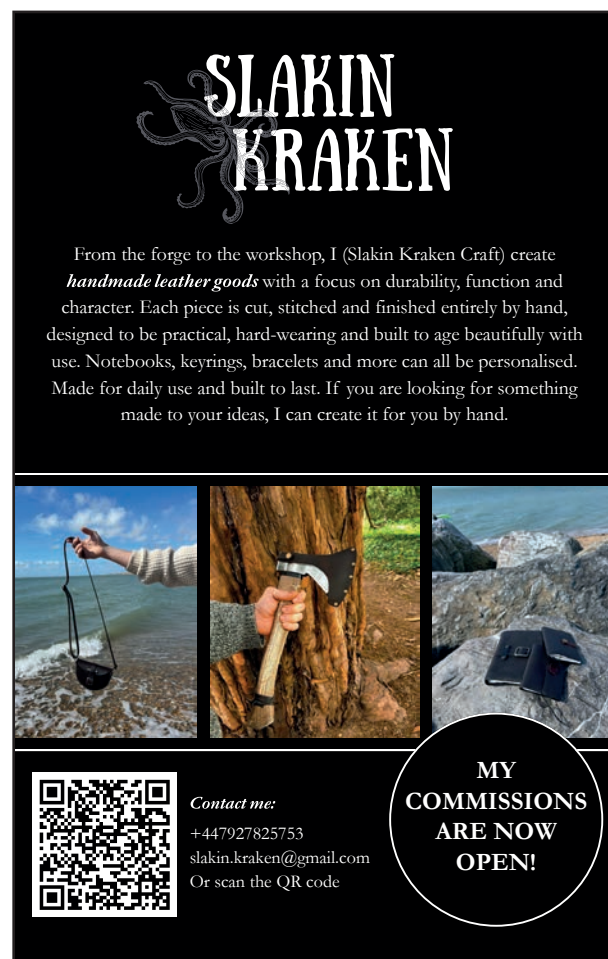

This book uncovers the history behind Paganism and Witchcraft, tracing their roots from ancient cultures such as the Celts and Anglo-Saxons who shaped Britain to Cunning Folk that then shaped modern paths today. It explores the origins of modern festivals, symbols, and beliefs while examining how digital culture and consumerism have reshaped contemporary Pagan communities.

Blending myth-busting clarity with engaging storytelling, it's an ideal introduction for beginners and a refreshing perspective for seasoned practitioners. From past to present, this book is a handy guide to give you knowledge on it all as a starting point on your personal journey.

AVAILABLE ONLINE VIA AUTHOR WEBSITE, ONLINE BOOKSTORES (SUCH AS BLACKWELLS) AND AMAZON (HARDBACK & PAPERBACK)

SUMMER COLOURING MEDITATION

I am Claire, an artist and art mindfulness facilitator, and I invite you to join me in this colouring meditation for Litha. I have used elements of my neurolinguistic programming studies in this one. You use the guide below as you colour.

Let your breath slow... gently, naturally... like warm air drifting across a sunlit field.

Take a deep breath in... and as you do, imagine golden light pouring into your body. Not just around you, but through you. With every inhale, it expands. With every exhale, it softens anything heavy, anything tight.

Now, recall a thought that has been weighing on you. Don't push it away. Simply notice it. See where it sits in your body... its sound, its texture, its colour. See these as bright, colourful and loud as you can.

Look at the colouring and gently place your thought into the bowl in the middle. Begin to colour the smoke with bold, bright hues focussing on that negative thought. As you move around the swirl of the smoke, make the colours greyer, dimmer until they are soft grey pencil shades only. Barely there.

You are visually taking away the energy of the negative thought until it becomes small, far away and insignificant.

Now in its place, call something new.

Whisper within: I choose expansion. I choose warmth. I choose abundance.

Feel these words not just as thoughts, but as sensations. Where do they land in your body? Let them spread. Let them root. With this positive thought, colour in the witch figure to represent you.

Say now, softly or silently:
As the sun reaches its peak, so do I.
As the earth blooms, so do I.
What I nurture, grows.

Take one more slow breath in... and as you exhale, imagine this energy sealing into you like sunlight on skin, warm, alive, and lasting.

When you are ready, return... bringing the light with you.

When your picture is complete place it on your altar, or share it with me
